Dear Parishioners,

Greeting to you in the precious name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Our life is a journey. And at times, we Christians stand at the crossroads, not knowing which way to travel. The broad way leads to perdition and the narrow way leads to eternal life.

The broad way is the way of sin. It is the way to hell. The way, which is broad and wide, attracts many because it purports to offer great liberty to quench our lusts. Many travel in this way because it promises to have no checks on their appetites and passions. You may walk in this way with the ways of your hearts and in the sight of your eyes. It, being the broad way, has no fences and hedges to check your desires and passions; endlessly you could wander. There are many people who take this broad and wide way.

On the other hand we all need to enter by the narrow door. This is the door, which leads towards holiness, life and Christ. It is very difficult to enter narrow gate because narrow it allows only a few to enter in.

We must endure hardness, must wrestle and be in agony, must watch in all things. Walk with care and circumspection in order to walk in the narrow way. It is hard to get to heaven, a place that shall not be gained without much care and struggle. We must strive with God in prayer to enter the narrow gate.

The narrow door offers us life and bliss at the end of the journey, but the wider one leads to perdition. The choice is set before us – life and death and good and evil.

During this period of lent, let us remember that God can only help us to enter the narrow gate. Let us during this period of lent spend more time in the presence of God, meditate on His word and try to follow what God has commanded us.

May our lives, our thoughts and our action always be a witness to others.
May God Bless you all.
